Early Life and Education

Rifqa was born in 2001 in the Sheikh Jarrah neighborhood of occupied East Jerusalem. Her family has been living in their home in Sheikh Jarrah for over 70 years, but they have been facing eviction by Israeli authorities since 2002.

Rifqa attended Al-Aqsa Girls School in Jerusalem, where she began writing poetry as a way to express her emotions about the ongoing violence and oppression facing her people.

Poetry and Activism

Rifqa's poetry is characterized by its raw honesty, vivid imagery, and unwavering determination. She writes about the everyday realities of life under occupation, the struggles and triumphs of Palestinian women, and the resilience of her people.

In her poems, Rifqa paints a compelling picture of the human toll of the Israeli-Palestinian conflict. She exposes the injustice and violence that Palestinians face, while also celebrating their strength and resilience.

Beyond her poetry, Rifqa is also a vocal activist. She uses her platform to speak out against Israeli apartheid, the illegal occupation of Palestinian land, and the human rights abuses that Palestinians face on a daily basis.

International Recognition

Rifqa's work has gained international recognition and acclaim. She has been featured in major media outlets around the world, including the BBC, CNN, and The New York Times.

In 2021, Rifqa and her twin sister, Muna, were named one of TIME magazine's 100 Most Influential People. They were recognized for their tireless activism and their ability to inspire others to take action for justice in Palestine.

The Voice of a Generation

Rifqa Mohammed El Kurd has become a powerful voice for her generation of Palestinians. She represents a new generation of activists who are using their voices and platforms to demand justice, equality, and the end of the occupation.

Through her poetry and activism, Rifqa has helped to raise awareness of the plight of the Palestinian people and to inspire others to take action for justice. She is a symbol of hope for a better future for Palestine and a reminder that the struggle for human rights is far from over.

Rifqa Mohammed El Kurd is a remarkable young woman who has dedicated her life to fighting for justice and human rights for Palestinians. Her powerful words and unwavering commitment have inspired people around the world to support the Palestinian cause.

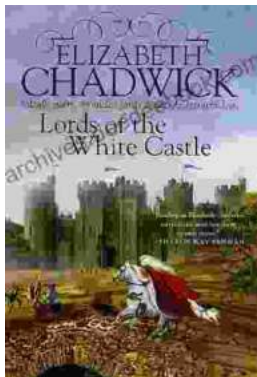

Rifqa's story is a reminder that the struggle for justice is an ongoing one, but that there are those who are willing to fight for a better future. She is a voice for the voiceless and a beacon of hope for Palestinians around the world.
