

The Truck That Wanted To Be Submarine

Children's Books: Mr. Luck's Trucks: The Truck that Wanted to be a Submarine. Illustrated Children's Stories for Kids Ages 2-6 (Children's Picture Books for Bedtime Book 3) by C and S Dunlop

★★★★★ 5 out of 5

Language : English
File size : 1340 KB
Text-to-Speech : Enabled
Screen Reader : Supported
Enhanced typesetting : Enabled
Print length : 18 pages
Lending : Enabled

FREE

DOWNLOAD E-BOOK

Once upon a time, there was a truck named Tucker. Tucker was a big, strong truck, and he loved to drive around and deliver goods. But Tucker had a secret dream: he wanted to be a submarine.

Tucker knew that it was a silly dream. After all, trucks aren't supposed to be submarines. But Tucker didn't care. He loved the ocean, and he loved to explore. He dreamed of swimming through the waves and seeing all the amazing creatures that lived under the sea.

One day, Tucker was driving down the road when he saw a group of children playing by the river. The children were building a dam out of rocks, and they were having a lot of fun. Tucker stopped to watch the children play, and he couldn't help but smile.

"I wish I could play with them," Tucker thought. "I wish I could swim in the water like they can."

Just then, Tucker had an idea. He would build his own submarine! Tucker drove to the nearest hardware store and bought all the supplies he needed. He worked on his submarine for weeks, and finally, it was finished.

Tucker was so excited to try out his new submarine. He drove it down to the river and launched it into the water. The submarine floated perfectly, and Tucker was able to swim around underwater just like he had always dreamed.

Tucker had so much fun swimming around in his submarine. He saw all sorts of amazing creatures, including fish, turtles, and even a dolphin. Tucker was so happy that he had finally achieved his dream of becoming a submarine.

Tucker swam around in his submarine all day long. He had so much fun that he forgot all about his old dream of being a truck. He realized that he didn't need to be a truck to be happy. He could be whatever he wanted to be.

Tucker swam back to the shore and climbed out of his submarine. He looked at the children playing by the river, and he smiled. He knew that he would never forget his day as a submarine.

The end.

Children's Books: Mr. Luck's Trucks: The Truck that Wanted to be a Submarine. Illustrated Children's Stories for Kids Ages 2-6 (Children's Picture Books for Bedtime Book 3) by C and S Dunlop

★★★★★ 5 out of 5

Language : English
File size : 1340 KB
Text-to-Speech : Enabled
Screen Reader : Supported
Enhanced typesetting : Enabled
Print length : 18 pages
Lending : Enabled

Lords of the White Castle: A Comprehensive Analysis of Characters and Their Relationships

In the realm of literature, few novels have captured the intricacies of human relationships with such depth and resonance as Lords of the White...

Churchill Livingstone Medical Dictionary: An In-Depth Exploration for Healthcare Professionals

In the ever-evolving field of healthcare, precise and up-to-date medical knowledge is paramount for effective patient care. The Churchill...