

When Talking About Jesus Is Outside Your Comfort Zone: Forge Partnership Books

Talking about Jesus can be uncomfortable. It can be hard to know what to say, how to say it, and how to respond to the other person's reaction. But it's important to remember that sharing your faith is one of the most important things you can do as a Christian.

If you're serious about sharing your faith, I encourage you to check out the resources from Forge Partnership Books. These resources can help you to become a more effective witness for Christ.

Here are some tips for talking about Jesus when it's outside your comfort zone:

- Start with prayer. Ask God for help to find the right words and to say them in a way that is clear and compelling.
- Be yourself. Don't try to be someone you're not. People will be more likely to listen to you if they can tell that you're genuine.
- Be respectful. Even if you disagree with someone, it's important to treat them with respect. Remember that they are a child of God.
- Be patient. It may take time for someone to come to faith in Jesus. Don't get discouraged if they don't respond the way you hope.
- Be persistent. Keep sharing your faith even when it's difficult. You never know when God will use your words to touch someone's heart.

Talking about Jesus can be uncomfortable, but it's worth it. When you share your faith, you're not only sharing information; you're sharing hope.

You're sharing the good news that there is a God who loves us and wants to have a relationship with us.

Forge Partnership Books can help you to become a more effective witness for Christ. Their resources can help you to develop a clear and concise message about Jesus, learn how to share your faith in a way that is both engaging and respectful, respond to objections and questions about Christianity, and build relationships with people who are interested in learning more about Jesus.
